Guided Nation's Foreign Policy With Energy Few Matched

Washington (AP)—John Foster Dulles died Sunday of cancer. The former secretary of state was 71.

For 6 years, perhaps as no other cabinet officer before him, Dulles was a mold and warden of the nation's foreign policy.

Leaders of America and the free world, from President Eisenhower on down, poured out words of farewell and glowing tribute to Dulles as a man dedicated to freedom and peace.

In a statement he pencilled personally on a sheet of yellow paper, Eisenhower described his departed friend and confidant as a life-time laborer for world peace, a foe of tyranny and "one of the truly great men of our time."

Full Honors
With the full military honors accorded heroes and distinguished men, Dulles will be buried Wednesday on a wooded hillside at Arlington National Cemetery, across the Potomac from Washington.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower will attend.

President and Mrs. Eisenhower paid a 20-minute call at Dulles' home in northwest Washington late in the afternoon.

The President seemed in a sombre mood as he stepped out of his limousine in front of the Dulles' house and escorted his wife to the front door. He appeared equally downcast when he emerged for the ride back to the executive mansion.

In Geneva, the Big Four foreign ministers conference, grappling with the fate of Germany and Berlin, agreed to a recess over Wednesday and Thursday because of Dulles' death.

Three of the principals, and perhaps Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko as well, will fly the Atlantic to the Dulles funeral service.

Dulles' successor, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, will be accompanied by the British and French foreign ministers, Selwyn Lloyd and Maurice Couve de Murville.

Gromyko May Attend
Although Dulles, to his undoubted satisfaction, never was admired by the Soviet high command, an American spokesman at Geneva said Gromyko had expressed "deep condolences" to Herter and also might fly to Washington.

The President shortened a weekend at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm by several hours and hurried back to Washington by automobile. Back at the White House, he signed a proclamation calling Dulles a champion of righteousness "whose eyes were fixed on the highest goals which men are given to see."

The proclamation formally directed that the American flag be flown at half staff on all government buildings at home and abroad until Dulles is buried.

The rites at Arlington will be preceded by services at Washington National Cathedral, an unfinished mass of stone on the highest spot in the capital. Dulles was a leader of the Presbyterian Church, and Presbyterian clergymen will officiate.

Honor Guard
For 24 hours, Dulles' body will lie in repose at the cathedral, in advance of the

STEPS IN AN ILLUSTRIOUS CAREER

Here is a look at John Foster Dulles in the various phases of his career: (from left) boy of 3 in 1891, a student at Princeton in the early 1900's, an international lawyer at age 35 as he represented the U.S. at the 1923 Versailles Peace Conference, and as Republican senator from New York in 1949.

Nation's Leaders Mourn

... Courage And Dedication Lauded By All

Washington (AP)—The nation's leaders mourned the death of John Foster Dulles Sunday as a tragic loss to the free world. In an outpouring of tributes, Dulles was eulogized as a courageous fighter dedicated to peace and his country.

President Eisenhower called his former secretary of state "one of the truly great men of our time." Dulles' successor, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, said in Geneva that Dulles "truly gave his life in the service of his country."

"We have lost our greatest secretary of state," said former President Herbert Hoover.

Truman
Former President Harry S. Truman commented "We've lost a good public servant and I'm as sorry as I can be."

One of Dulles' closest associates from years back, former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey characterized him as "one of the finest human beings I have ever known."

In the flood of statements and comments expressing sorrow at Dulles' death the words "courageous" and "dedicated" were frequently used to describe him. They came from both Republicans and Democrats.

Eisenhower, spending the weekend at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm, issued a statement saying:

Eisenhower
"A lifetime of labor for world peace has ended... his courage, his wisdom, and his friendly understanding were devoted to bettering relations among nations. He was a foe only to tyranny... from his life and work, humanity will, in the years to come, gain renewed inspiration to work ever harder for the attainment of the goal of peace with justice..."

In Geneva for the foreign ministers conference, Herter said the policies for which Dulles "strove so valiantly" will be pursued until the day of their general acceptance. The No. 2 man in the State Department, Under Secretary C. Douglas Dillon, said of Dulles:

Dillon
"He was a truly remarkable man whose intellectual powers, personal courage and high moral integrity won him the respect and admiration of free men everywhere."

The chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) described Dulles as "a dedicated and courageous public servant" and added:

"I just wish we had more men as willing as Mr. Dulles to devote their time and effort to the welfare of their country."

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said "it is deeply tragic that our country has lost the services of this dedicated man. He believed deeply in the principles of freedom and he was a fighter for his beliefs."

House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) said Dulles "was a great patriot and a great man and he served his country well."

Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, the GOP House leader, said the free world "has lost one of its wisest and most courageous champions... I think history will record him as one of America's greatest secretaries of state."

Man Quizzed In Knife-Point Cab Robberies

Omaha (AP)—A 30-year-old man was being questioned by detectives Sunday night in connection with a series of recent knife-point robberies of taxicab drivers.

Detective inspector John Barnes said two robbery victims have identified the man being held. He was arrested Sunday after a chase on Omaha's near north side.

Detectives found a wristwatch under the seat of the suspect's car and a billfold in the rear.

The watch was identified as that of Victor J. Baglio, 58. He was robbed at knife-point late Saturday night by a passenger he picked up at the Union Station. The man also took $9 in cash.

Police said the billfold had been identified as that of another taxi driver, Linardo Galletto, 26. He was robbed early Sunday by a man who approached the cab after a woman passenger left it.

Detectives said there have been nine such holdups of taxi drivers in the same north side area during the past few weeks.

Spring Showers Slated To Return

Nebraska's not so merry May "monsoon" is expected to return in the form of scattered showers and thunderstorms Monday after an all too brief respite from the heavy rains.

According to the Weather Bureau precipitation can be expected over the state through Monday night. Little change in temperature is forecast for the daytime although the weatherman predicts a cooling trend in the north after nightfall.

Moreover, southerly winds reaching 35 mph are expected in the east. Sunday winds reaching a velocity of more than 35 mph buffeted most of the state as the mercury climbed into the 80s in the Panhandle.

A state high of 85 was reported at Chadron with Scottsbluff reporting 84 and North Platte and Sidney each 79. High readings in the eastern half of the state ranged in the low 70s.

Only Nebraska stations measuring rainfall Sunday were Scottsbluff with .02 inch and Valentine, a trace.

World Offers Praise

London (AP)—News of the death of John Foster Dulles passed over western Europe and much of the world like a dark cloud Sunday.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and the foreign ministers of Britain and France will fly to Washington Tuesday night to attend the funeral.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, who agreed to a 2-day recess, expressed to Herter his deep condolences.

Statesmen of Europe and Asia, along with millions of the ordinary people, mourned the former secretary of state as a great fighter for freedom who gave his health and his life for his cause.

Leaders Speak
Sir Winston Churchill, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany, President Charles de Gaulle of France all mourned him as a personal friend. They remembered him as the face-to-face diplomat ready day or night to fly half way around the world for heart to heart talks on international problems.

Churchill was lunching at Chartwell, his country house, when the news was brought to him.

"John Foster Dulles was a man of principle and integrity whose example should long be remembered by those who put their trust in freedom and fair dealing," he said. "His courage has commanded the admiration of the whole world. A great American has passed."

In a message to President Eisenhower, President de Gaulle said "I deeply feel the loss which the death of John Foster Dulles constitutes for yourself, for your country and all men attached to freedom."

Adenauer... 'A Friend'
Adenauer said Germany had lost "an understanding friend who made the cause of the German people his own. We honor his memory best if we continue along the road we set out together with him."

Macmillan praised Dulles as a true and great American patriot "in who the highest ideals were supported by a signal force of character."

Herter was the first of the foreign ministers at Geneva to issue a statement. Dulles "truly gave his life in the service of his country," he said, adding that the policies for which he had striven so valiantly would be pursued until the day of their general acceptance.

'Deep Loss'
"Those of us who had the privilege of working closely with him feel a sense of deep personal loss," he concluded.

French Foreign Minister Couve de Murville expressed "deep emotion and great sadness." For years, he said, Dulles had "dominated the international scene with his vigorous personality" and in the last months had given "yet another example of his universally admired courage and faith with his obstinate struggle against a pitiless disease."

"I wish to salute his work and his person, and to say that his memory will remain with us alive and honored."

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd said Dulles' services to his country and to the cause of peace and freedom "will be recognized by history."

Unicam Turns Eye To Money Matters

Concerted Effort Promised On Expediting Budget Bill

By Betty Person

With most non-controversial measures now out of the way, the Nebraska Legislature will open its 21st week Monday with consideration of "money" bills, the passage or failure of which will have a telling effect on the state budget for the next two years.

The legislators have agreed to make every effort to wrap up their action on the "money" bills before they take up any other measures on general file in order that the budget bill can be sent to the printers at the earliest possible date.

It now appears that June 15 will be the date the bill will be placed in the printer's hands.

The budget bill went to the printers May 2 in the 1957 session, but several appropriation bills were pending which required attempts to amend the budget on the floor.

Quick Action Asked
Sen. Otto Liebers of Lincoln, chairman of the Budget Committee which completed its work as far as possible several weeks ago, has been urging his colleagues to consider the remaining appropriation bills as fast as possible in order that the budget bill will be complete when it reaches the floor.

Among the "money" bills to be considered on general file this week (initial floor action) are:

LB636 which calls for increasing from $50 to $60 per month the amount paid by the Board of Control for maintenance of children placed in outside institutions.

LB429 which would require posting prices for alcoholic beverages and a tax equal to 10% of the prevailing regular state license fees, to be paid by licensees for the cost of the program.

LB722 which would authorize a special levy of one-tenth of a mill for 10 years to create a Nebraska agricultural products research fund.

LB282 which would appropriate $340,000 to the State Department of Education to build a school and gym at the Nebraska School for the Blind.

Agency Switch
LB281 which proposes transferring jurisdiction of the School for the Blind from the Board of Control to the Department of Education.

LB283 which would provide that part of the institutional building fund would go to the schools for the blind and deaf, and reducing the amount given to the Board of Control.

LB590 which provides for licensing persons who sell or dispense alcoholic liquors or persons representing brewers, manufacturers or distributors, providing for a $5 license fee and setting limitations on those receiving licenses.

LB584 which would provide for licensing 14 to 16-year olds to operate motor scooters and providing for a $1 license fee.

Full-day sessions are expected Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, but the lawmakers will adjourn from noon Thursday until Monday morning June 1 in order to take a Memorial Day recess.

Today's Chuckle
After being treated by a doctor the kleptomaniac was told, "I don't think you will have a relapse, but if you do, pick up a radio for me."

Packers, Stockyards Act Extends In State

Nearly All Nebraska Livestock Sales To Be Included By July

The protective arm of the Federal Packers and Stockyards Act will be extended by July 1 to include practically all sales of livestock in Nebraska. Leo J. Waller, Omaha district supervisor of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Packers and Stockyards Branch, reported 19 additional livestock auctions in Nebraska have been officially "posted" in recent weeks, and 19 others will come under federal supervision by the first of July.

These auction markets are in addition to 66 auction markets and the Omaha stockyards which were under federal supervision before the Packers and Stockyards Act was amended by Congress last year.

Before the 1958 amendment, the federal law applied only to markets of 20,000 square feet and larger. The revised law applies to any livestock market dealing in animals that may move across state lines.

The new law also requires federal registration of livestock dealers who engage in interstate trade, and Waller reports that 17 additional Nebraska dealers have been notified they must register before June 25.

In addition to the markets and dealers in the eastern four-fifths of Nebraska, supervised from the Omaha office, 12 auction markets in western Nebraska, supervised from Denver, have been officially "posted."

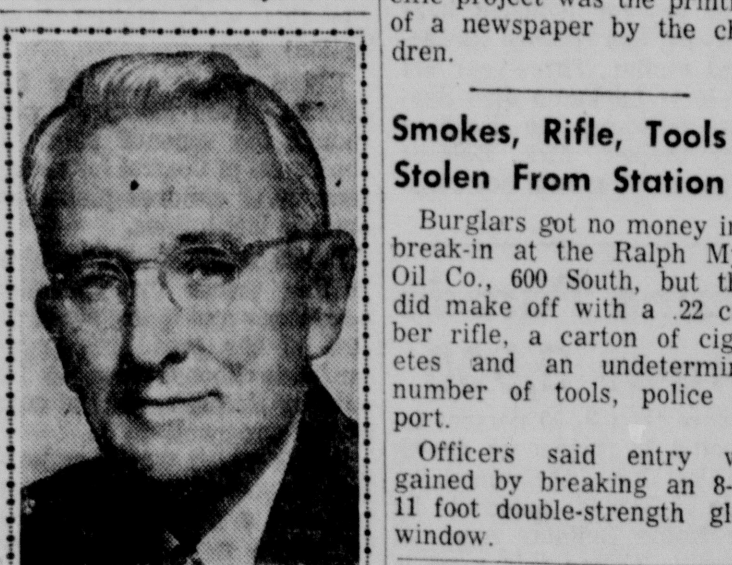

Under the Packers and Stockyards Act, which is enforced by a branch of the Agricultural Marketing Service, a livestock market must obtain official approval of its charges for handling, feed, yardage, selling, etc., its scales must be approved and then tested regularly every 6 months; accurate records must be kept of all sales through the market; each auction market must post a bond to insure that livestock sold through the auction will be paid for.

Each commission firm or dealer must register and also must post a bond with the Department of Agriculture, and must keep complete and

Leo Hill And Pat Ayer Win Playhouse 'Elsies'

Leo Hill and Pat Ayer were revealed Sunday night as Best Actor and Best Actress of the 1958-59 Lincoln Community Playhouse season.

The two received their "Elsies" following the final performance of the season's last play, "The Reluctant Debutante." "Elsies" were given also for best supporting actor and actress and best performance in a minor role.

"Inherit the Wind" was selected as the Best Show of the Year. Don Johannes directed the production. The word "Elsie" has been so dubbed as an abbreviation for Lincoln Community, or L.C. Playhouse.

Hill was selected for his role as Henry Drummond in "Inherit the Wind." Mrs. Ayer played the lead role of Anastasia in the production of the same name.

QUAKE PANICS OAXACA

... Southern Mexico

Mexico City (AP)—An earthquake spread panic and confusion in southern Mexico Sunday, causing at least one death and injuries to 10 persons. There was some property damage.

Hardest hit, according to reports Sunday night, was Oaxaca, capital of the southeastern state of that name, and the surrounding area.

The two main towers of the church at the village of Reyes Etla, 12 miles from Oaxaca, fell with a crash, burying an 8-year-old Mexican girl.

A dispatch from Oaxaca said 10 houses were damaged so badly they must be rebuilt.

Plaster Fell

Plaster fell inside 4 packed churches in Oaxaca. One big block of plaster barely missed a couple who had just been married. Hundreds of children attending Sunday movie matinees abandoned the buildings in fright.

The national observatory said the earthquake registered 5 degrees on the mercalli scale, which has a maximum of 10.

The shock was felt in Mexico City for almost a minute, but no damage or injuries were reported. It came during, but did not interrupt, a soccer football match between Mexico and England. Surprised fans filling the 83,000-seat stadium halted their cheering only momentarily.

Starkweather Case Quiet

Acting Warden John Greenholtz said Sunday there were no new developments on the Starkweather case at the State Penitentiary.

"Everything is quiet and peaceful out here," Greenholtz said.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Starkweather, parents of the convicted killer, are looking for an attorney to prepare an appeal to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals of Federal Judge Robert Van Pelt's ruling against a writ of habeas corpus.

Seattle Man Dies Trying Vainly To Save His Son

Seattle (AP)—A Boeing Airplane Co. official gave his life Sunday in an heroic but vain attempt to save his son from drowning after a swinging sailboat boom knocked the boy into wind-raked Puget Sound.

The victims were Ralph A. Kolstad, management development coordinator for Boeing's piloted aircraft division, and his son, Ralph Jr., 10.

William G. Keehn, management development director for the division, narrowly escaped the same fate when the dingy in which he set out to help the Kolstads capsized in the choppy water.

2 Fished Out

Passing boats fished out the two men, but Kolstad was unconscious and efforts to revive him were futile. Whether he drowned or died of shock and exposure was not immediately determined. Keehn suffered no apparent ill effects.

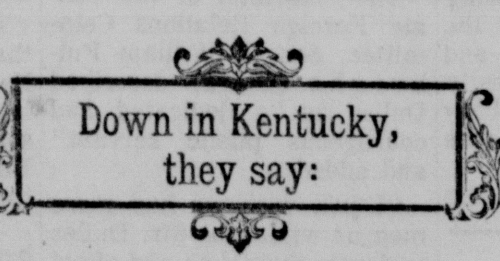

No trace of the boy was found. The Coast Guard launched an air-sea search for his body.

The tragedy, third on Puget Sound within a month, occurred about a mile off Seattle's Shilshole Bay during a Sunday outing by the families of three Boeing executives in Kolstad's 36-foot sailing craft, a converted lifeboat.

Death Toll 3

The death toll in the 3 boating accidents was 11.

The Kolstad boy was helping raise the sails in a brisk wind when the boom swept him into the water. The fath-

Dulles Flew Fabulous Half-Million Miles As Secretary Of State

Washington (P)—John Foster Dulles visited 46 countries while traveling 559,998 air miles as secretary of state during 6 turbulent years.

A fearless air traveler, he flew the equivalent of 22 times around the world, either on crisis missions, good will trips, or for strategy talks with scores of western leaders.

During this time, he ranged all over Europe, much of the Middle East, Latin America and became the first secretary of state ever to visit Asia. But while secretary he stopped short of the Iron Curtain.

Brush With Disaster

In all this flying, he had only one faint brush with disaster—and that came on a routine June 8, 1957 flight from New York to Washington in a two-engine Navy transport.

One of the engines suddenly belched big black smoke clouds as the plane was coming in to land at the military air terminal. Swiftly, the pilot put the plane down in an emergency landing at Anacostia Naval Air Station, which was closer, before the engine caught fire.

Unperturbed

Dulles sat unperturbed during the emergency, chatting with an aide who nervously kept looking out the window trying to keep the secretary from knowing how frightened he was.

Dulles flew 114,833 miles during 1958—his flyingest year—mainly on missions to help the west forge a united front in dealing with the Soviets over the future of Germany and Berlin.

Dulles genuinely loved to fly. He could relax, away from the telephone, pondering his diplomatic problems with best results, he frequently told friends.

While the plane sped through the sky, he studied his papers, frequently dictated to his secretary or discussed problems intensively with his aides.

Occasionally, he would take time off to read paperback detective novels or to play bridge.

He apparently never worried about his personal safety and never hesitated to take off on a mission because of bad weather.

"Why should I worry?" he answered when a newsman asked him about this once. "The Air Force knows what it is doing."

This faith once led to an erratic flight. He took off from Washington in foggy weather for a speech in New York but wound up in Albany when his pilot couldn't land as planned. Dulles returned to Washington without giving the speech.

Laughed At Gags

Dulles used to laugh at some of the gags comedians made up about his extensive flying.

But Dulles regarded the airplane as a logical, vital part of 20th century diplomacy.

He felt that a person-to-person chat, if it could be brought about at the cost of a few hours flying time, was much to be preferred in settling differences than the old-fashioned way of sending cables and notes.

John F. Dulles—Churchman, Public Servant: Life History

Washington (UPI)—This is the chronology of the life of John Foster Dulles:

1888—Born Feb. 25 in Washington, D.C. the son and grandson of Presbyterian ministers and also the grandson of John Watson, secretary of state under President Benjamin Harrison.

1907—As a 19-year-old, accompanied his grandfather to the second Hague peace conference.

1908—Was graduated from Princeton University as valedictorian of his class; later studied philosophy at the Sorbonne in Paris.

1911—Joined the New York law firm of Sullivan & Cromwell, an association he maintained until 1949.

1917—Became special agent for the State Department in Central America; captain and major attached to general staff of U.S. Army.

1918—Advised to President Wilson at Versailles peace conference; later member of Reparations Commission.

1923—Became chairman of Federal Council of Protestant Churches.

1925—Was member of U.S. delegation to San Francisco which drew up the charter of the United Nations.

1926—Served as member of original delegation to first U.N. General Assembly at Lake Success, N.Y., the first of 4 such assignments.

1929—Appointed to fill unexpired Senate term of New York's late Sen. Robert F. Wagner. Defeated in attempt to win full term.

1930—Named by President Harry S. Truman as special consultant to secretary of state.

1931—After negotiating for a year and a half, succeeded in working out acceptable peace treaty with Japan which he signed on behalf of the United States.

1932—Served as foreign policy adviser during Dwight D. Eisenhower's successful campaign for the presidency.

1933—Became the 3rd U.S. secretary of state, following in the footsteps of his grandfather and an uncle, Robert Lansing, who served under President Wilson.

1934—Through Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, initiated tough approach that persuaded Chinese Communists to sign Korean War truce.

1954—Was a moving factor in establishing Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, SEATO, a free world counterpart of NATO against Red aggression in that area.

Famous Cancer Victims Legion

Washington (P)—Victims of cancer have included some of the world's most famous personages.

President Ulysses S. Grant finished his memoirs only 4 days before he died of cancer in 1885.

George Washington's mother died of cancer the year he became president in 1789.

While radium is used today to control some forms of cancer, it was responsible for the pernicious anemia death of its discoverer, Marie Curie.

And her daughter, Irene Joliot-Curie, a physicist who carried on her parents' work with radium, died in 1956 at the age of 58 of leukemia, a form of cancer brought on in this case by over-exposure to radioactive materials.

2nd Cause

Since 1937, cancer has been the second leading cause of death in America, exceeded only by heart disease. Its toll this year is expected to reach 260,000.

With all the frank publicity that goes out today about cancer and its victims, it is hard to believe that it once was a disease veiled in secrecy, unmentionable.

But it is only since World War II, authorities say, that cancer has been brought out in the open to be battled on all fronts.

Sometimes in the past, the prominence of the stricken person, has led to concealment.

Secret Operations

President Grover Cleveland, his life endangered by cancer on the roof of his mouth, was secreted aboard a private yacht in Long Island Sound in 1893 for two operations in which the entire left half of his upper jaw was removed and replaced with an artificial section.

It was not until years later that this operation for mouth cancer became generally known.

In sharp contrast, was the prompt announcement of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' condition.

Damon Runyon

The names of some of the famous who were cancer victims—such as writer Damon Runyon—remain in the fight to conquer the disease.

The Runyon Memorial Fund, begun in 1947, a year after his death, has channeled close to 12 million dollars into grants and fellowships for cancer research.

When actor Red Skelton took his dying 9-year-old son, Richard, for a last look at some of the wonders of the world, the tragic journey emphasized the plight of cancer sufferers.

The death of anyone well known highlights the problem.

The American Cancer Society has kept a list of prominent persons who died of cancer.

Some are recent and well remembered: actor Humphrey Bogart, nuclear scientist Enrico Fermi, actresses Gertrude Lawrence and Susan Ball, Flying Tiger Gen. Claire L. Chennault; Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio), athlete Babe Didrickson Zaharias, designers Jacques Fath and Claire McCordale.

The 'Bambino'

songster George M. Cohan, animal collector Frank Buck, authors James Milton and Gertrude Stein, news commentator Edwin C. Hill, Ziegfeld Follies Girl Peggy Hopkins Joyce, bandleader Eddie Duchin, poet Edward Arlington Robinson, actress Jane Cowl and composer of the Merry Widow, Franz Lehár.

The victims are many, but there are also legions of the cured.

Two years ago, the American cancer society decided to turn the spotlight on them and inaugurated an annual "Congress of the cured."

Delegates to the Congress adopted a pledge to speak out about their personal victories, to help raise money for research and to bring the frightened a message of hope—that early cancer often can be cured.

The Merry, Merry Month

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

The weather has been pretty miserable lately but not bad enough that an afternoon in Pioneer's Park goes unrewarded. And a great many people will attest to this for the park had a pretty good number of people in it, despite the rather unusual time for such patronage. There were a few picnickers and other visitors just enjoying the scenery and the quiet of the countryside.

The park right now is pretty well like the rest of nature, getting rundown with too much moisture. The low spots have a good supply of water and the grass is getting out of hand due to the inability of men to get to it with mowers. But the rest of the basic elements are all there—fine green trees, inviting picnic areas, a beckoning playground area, pleasant winding roads, etc. And, of course, there are the ever present animal inhabitants of the park. Another baby burro is looked for at almost any time.

And the wallaroos had a hard time getting through the winter months but survived with only a little frostbite here and there. Mother, father and daughter guanaco are doing fine, although still a bit shy with the general public. A big hope is that the water buffalo will soon be increasing the population.

The other inhabitants—the deer, the Texas longhorns, the sheep, etc.—are all in fine condition, anxiously awaiting the coming visitors' season. Somewhat of a problem has been presented by the swan on the large lake. The bird's bluster and showing off led officials to believe the creature to be a male.

On this assumption, a female was ordered from an eastern fancier. But just days after the order was placed, the supposed male began building a nest—not a habit of that sex. With that unknown factor, the new female will be accepted but traded this fall if the possible conflict becomes a reality.

Of more than passing interest is the unique pair of trumpeter swans at Pioneer's, reported to be one of only three pair in captivity. They became a part of the park menagerie after being mistakenly shot down. The one was shot in the neck which rendered the bird powerless to control its head when drinking.

The head is still raised when the bill is filled for a drink but it falls back out of control. Despite this, the bird is doing fine and now appears to be nesting. There is no shortage at all of ducks. Dozens of them patrol the main lake, fighting among themselves and making a lot of noise.

The main back road through the park which runs along No. 3 green and fairway on the golf course gave rise to the suspicion that honesty is not always a practiced virtue. Two cars were parked along the road, with no sign of their owners. The theory is that the owners simply scooted over the fence and onto No. 3 green for a free round of golf.

Somewhat or other, these free golfers manage to play 18 holes and end up near their cars for a hasty exit. Occasionally, one or two of these culprits will be caught around the clubhouse but it is hardly worth the time and effort to make a concentrated drive against the practice. But that is about the only thing in the park to remind one of the realities of life and the world. The rest of it is clear and pure—as refreshing an atmosphere as you could find for miles around. It is pretty hard to take a leisurely trip through the park and not come out feeling better than you did when you entered.

The combination of simplicity and complexity among the wild life is a fascinating thing to observe. It never manages to become boring, as the daily crowds this summer will attest to. Nor does the landscape ever fail pretty well to take your breath away. When you get to where such a trip does nothing for you, you can seriously start wondering what ails you.

One Discordant Note

Press Gets Less

New York's former governor, Averell Harriman, found no difficulty in obtaining State Department consent to visit Red China as a newsmen.

Harriman is currently touring Russia and an extension of his visit into Red China awaits only the permission of the Red Chinese.

Since Harriman is a statesman of high order, a man of understanding and a suitable representative of democratic America no objection can be raised to his privilege. The nation can expect to be fruitfully rewarded by his trip.

But it is a commentary on the times and the attitude of the State Department to note that the reliable, professional press services of this country together with news representatives of the free press have not enjoyed such State Department graciousness.

Mr. Harriman is proposing to go to China as a news man. Mr. Harriman is a distinguished citizen and an eminent statesman, but he is not a news man in the professional sense.

The State Department is not to be chided for consenting to his China visit, but it is to be censured for denying to the press identical access to those overseas news sources. It implies that the right and responsibility to handle such news is a privilege of politics, but not of the objective, independent press.

It is true that the State Department has finally extended the press privilege to thirty American news gathering associations, including some papers and magazines of which one representative has been permitted to enter China. But that is an action of government control, not of a free press. And it is not a wholesome situation.

Unusual Farm Action

It was an unexpected coalition of Republicans and Democrats which combined to inject a $50,000 price support ceiling in the present House farm bill.

The unprecedented limitation was supported by 165 Republicans and 114 Democrats. In its primary intent the measure legislates against the large scale producer whose past price supports have run in terms of several hundred thousand dollars and in a few instances to a million dollars or more.

The thought of so much public money to one individual has shocked a great many and the fact has had forceful propaganda value against the farm program. Less emphasized are two facts. The payments are only in proportion to the size and cost of operation and do not reflect special favor. Moreover, the recipient producer plows back more of his take in income tax than does the lower rate small producer. In those large instances a sizeable chunk of the support payment to individuals is a federal dollar-trading act in which agricultural department dollars pipe through the high bracket tax-paying individual into the federal treasury.

Stripping the support limit provision from its propaganda factor complicates the issue by making secondary reactions visible. Inevitably, such a provision will drive more producers out of the program to the detriment of effective controls against surpluses. It will have the curious effect on the large producers of guaranteeing at least $50,000 worth of price support apparently with no production restraint above that. If surplus control is desired certainly this weird limitation will work in reverse.

If further, this limitation is a scheme to injure the co-operatives then the Congress has departed from the task of solving a production problem, converting it rather into a narrow punitive expedition against an element.

Counties Eliminated

The legislature of Connecticut has abolished the state's county governments and thus a form of government subdivision existing since 1666 has come to an end.

This will strike midwestern states as a radical piece of governmental streamlining. But an examination of the facts will offer little of practical value out here.

In the first place Connecticut is a small state, densely populated, in which distances and sectional differences do not demand strategically placed sub-governments. In Connecticut a state government is virtually a local government from any corner of the state, greatly in contrast to such distance as Nebraska poses, say, in the instance of Lincoln and Scottsbluff.

Moreover, Connecticut has long since relied on its towns, similar to our townships, to handle taxes, licenses, roads and other services which are performed in Nebraska by the counties. The abandonment of counties in Connecticut, therefore, amounts to hardly more than eliminating county jails.

Nebraska could well study the economies of governmental streamlining and in the eastern sections where there are small populous counties some consolidation of counties or county services could be made to work. But the force of modern times has already made a painless change in the function of townships. A few generations ago they were the veritable root stock of government, but not designed to deal practically with such things as modern roads and comparable services. These have been largely and agreeably shifted to the larger governmental units.

In general super-streamlining has its merits, but not if the citizen wishes to preserve his historic role in a democratic society. The closer his problem the less delegation there is in his political life.

Still The Same

A subscriber who was moved by the nostalgic impact of Lincoln's centennial dug deep to find several copies of early day Lincoln papers. One of them was published late in 1918 and found the editor concerned with governmental extravagance.

He remarked that the urgency of the war had prompted reckless use of telegrams at considerable more public cost than usual mailing. But he hoped that now that the armistice had been signed the government would put an end to such prodigality and restore low cost administration.

Now, 41 years afterward, we have the answer for that thrifty gentleman. The government didn't.

Favors Figure In Strauss Decision

WASHINGTON — The day before the Senate Commerce Committee voted on his confirmation, Secretary of Commerce Lewis Strauss made a political pay-off to three senators — Pastore of Rhode Island, Thurmond of South Carolina, and Cotton of New Hampshire — who helped salvage his one-vote victory.

The pay-off had to do with stricter controls on foreign textiles, especially Japanese. However, one pay-off backfired so badly that it made John Pastore, the bouncing little Democrat from Rhode Island, hit the ceiling and almost change his mind about voting for Strauss. What made Pastore angry was that Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, Republican, not Pastore, Democrat, was permitted to announce the creation of a new governmental textile agency.

The whole inside story illustrates the ruthlessness with which Senate votes are sometimes bartered in a tough confirmation battle, and how such a battle can undermine an administration's foreign policy.

Here are the unrevealed highlights: 1. Because U.S. military bases in Japan are so important, the Eisenhower administration has refused to put mandatory controls on Japanese textiles. Instead, Japan itself has imposed voluntary controls. Such a policy has been urged by the State and Defense Departments in order to keep Japan an active free-world ally in the cold war against Red China.

2. Because Admiral Strauss's confirmation as Secretary of Commerce is personally important to Strauss and politically important to Eisenhower, the White House agreed to a special agency to investigate textile imports, with expected stricter controls on Japanese products later.

3. Ex-Gov. Tom Dewey of New York, former GOP candidate for president, accepted a fee of $100,000 a year to push Japanese textiles in the United States. Dewey is the man primarily responsible for nominating Eisenhower in 1952, and still has great influence at the White House. Dewey, incidentally, accepted the fee one day after the White House announced formation of the special agency on textiles.

Therefore two prominent Republicans, Dewey and Strauss, will be battling on opposite sides of the textile fence.

Admiral Strauss's backstage buttonholing among textile senators began some time ago. It was aided by certain big textile firms, notably Burlington Industries of North Carolina. In the middle of the Senate hearings over his confirmation, Strauss took a quick trip to Greensboro, N.C., to address a textile meeting of Burlington Industries, called the Senate hearings an unwarranted "political vendetta."

Herter Faces Test In Western Unity

GENEVA — The ordeal of a secretary of state can be compared to the test to which certain Indian tribes made their bravest and strongest young men submit. Subjected to every kind of torture and torment if they emerged bloody but unbowed, they were finally given a place around the council fire.

We have seen in recent years how several secretaries of state have endured this ordeal, and how Christian Herter is at the beginning of his trial. As is customary in the initial phase, he is given the benefit of every doubt but this is bound to be a brief interval.

A tall, craggy, tweedy man, he looks as though he might be an Ivy League professor—and he is, in fact, lecture for some years on foreign policy at Harvard before he entered politics. While the policy he pursues may prove to be identical with that of his predecessor, John Foster Dulles, his manner in negotiation, his style, is quite different.

He tends to be factual and understated. His speeches are free of rhetoric and he rarely resorts to moralizing. The impression is of a man who wants to get down to cases with as few personal flourishes as possible. Yet, as he has demonstrated several times, he can talk plainly and unequivocally to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko when there is need for plain talk.

The qualities he has shown thus far of assurance, patience and a modest integrity will be required in full measure if he is to pass the test just ahead. Beyond the obvious agreement well advertised in the initial phase, the western allies are far from united. When it comes down to the hard bargaining—whether it is next week or the week after—then someone, and the obvious candidate is Herter, must enforce a maximum of accord at the level of the foreign ministers.

A small incident at the start of the conference illustrates his problem. During the argument with the Russians over whether the two Germans should be seated at the council table, at separate tables or in the rear behind the delegations, the French with the backing of the West Germans were in favor of opposing the Soviets to the end, even though this meant Russian refusal to attend the opening session of the conference.

In that event, French foreign minister Couve de Murville argued, the three western delegates would go to the Palais Des Nations, march into the hall and advertise their willingness to negotiate as against Communist intransigence.

That gesture would have captured the headlines, and Herter seemed for the time being to agree with the French. But while British Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd said he would go along if it was the desire of the others he expressed great doubt about what he was convinced would in the end prove a futile and self-defeating stunt, good for at best 24 hours. After some discussion Herter came down on Lloyd's side for agreement on separate tables.

DR. I. M. LEVITT

Wonders Of The Universe

Would you believe that a human being could travel 42 million miles in 24 hours? This was about the distance from earth to Mars at Mars' closest approach in 1948.

It has happened. The man making the "trip" was Dr. Carl C. Clark, head of the Biophysics Division of the Aviation Medical Acceleration Laboratory at John'sville, Pa.

He rode a huge Navy centrifuge in a circle for 24 hours under a constant field of 2 G's. The conditions were exactly the same as if he had traveled 42 million miles under constant acceleration in the same period.

The idea was to show that a spaceman could survive comfortably under constant acceleration. It was a remarkable development in our quest for information about space travel. For it proved that if our technology ever permits us to build rocket motors capable of accelerating a space ship continually at twice the force of gravity for 24 hours, then men can live in the space ship without harm.

What is a "field of 2 G's?" All of us live in a field of 1 G (the normal pull of gravity) and are subject to an acceleration of 1 G.

Say you fall out of a plane. You would fall 16 feet the first second and then accelerate so that in two seconds you would fall 64 feet and in three seconds 144 feet and so on until the friction of the air slows the rate of increase.

Now let's imagine you fall out of a plane flying on a planet with a 2 G field. If the planet were made of the same material as the earth,

Once rocket motors are developed capable of accelerating a space ship at twice the force of gravity, travel to the stars will be feasible. Man has already shown he can stand this amount of acceleration.

its radius would be twice that of the earth. In a field of 2 G's you would fall 32 feet in one second, 128 feet in two seconds and 288 feet in three seconds.

In space there is no air to slow the increase, so that a space ship accelerating at 2 G's would reach a fantastic speed in a short period of time. If Dr. Clark had been traveling in a straight line at such an acceleration he could have reached the moon and returned in about 3½ hours!

While no rocket motor exists today to drive a space vehicle continuously at an acceleration of 2 G for 24 hours, no one can say this is physically impossible.

Naturally, there will be other problems. Just as the air is a limiting factor which slows up falling parachutists, so is there a limiting factor in space.

Einstein has shown that nothing can move faster than the speed of light — 186,300 miles a second. A space ship accelerating at 2 G's could reach that speed in about six months.

Dr. Clark fared remarkably well from his ordeal in the centrifuge. He ate, cooked, recorded his observations and slept during the 24-hour period.

In the 2 G field his weight was doubled, of course, and this caused him discomfort. If he attempted to move rapidly or abruptly he suffered nausea and experienced illusions, a toward the end of the 24 hours discovered that the act of sitting upright was accompanied by some faintness.

Here is the type of pioneer who is proving the feasibility of space travel even before our technology can provide the means to accomplish it.

Red Helpers

Lincoln, Neb. I agree with "Independent Voter" (Star, May 16). "Give-up-Hell-Harry" doesn't have any shame in him. If he did he wouldn't have called the biggest crook going "Good Old Joe." He wouldn't have kept a man in his cabinet who associated with Communists like Alger Hiss. You wouldn't want a banker who is trusted with your money to hire a cashier who associates with safe crackers, even though the cashier had never been convicted.

When General Wedemeyer was scheduled to be ambassador to China, Marshall and Acheson vetoed his appointment because the Communists didn't approve of him. The results — Communism in China.

Unfortunately, there are still those who are afflicted with the almost incurable disease called political prejudice. They don't realize that we have only one political party, but under two labels. These duped folks are to be pitied. General Douglas MacArthur expressed it well when he said, "This campaign to subvert the truth and shape or confuse the public mind with its consequent weakening of moral courage is not chargeable entirely to Communists engaged in a centrally controlled world wide conspiracy to destroy all freedom. For they have many allies, here as elsewhere, who blind to reality, ardently support the general Communist aims while reacting violently to the mere suggestion that they do so."

Before sticking to facts, let's get the true facts to stick to. Read "Congressional Record" or read "The Fight for America" and you'll have documented facts.

Against Transfer

North Platte, Neb. The news item in the May 21 newspapers concerning bills in the Legislature to transfer the schools for the blind and the deaf from the Board of Control to the State Department of Education added further to the maze of misinformation that has been printed concerning this issue.

The accusation that "the Board of Control didn't worry about education facilities of the schools" is without foundation. The Board of Control always has been concerned about the education of children at these two schools as well as those attending the following schools under their administration: Nebraska Children's Home, Lincoln. Girls Training School, Geneva. Boys Training School, Kearney. Retarded Children's School, Cozad. Women's Reformatory, York. Men's Reformatory, Lincoln. Beatrice State Home, Beatrice. State Penitentiary, Lincoln.

Any inspection of a biennial report of the Board of Control clearly reveals that the board has employed an assistant in education and psychology for many years to help them in this regard. Recently, Dr. Vernon Hungeate, former special education director in the Department of Education, was hired in this position.

The Omaha senator sponsoring the bill to change the administration of the Schools for the Blind privately told Omaha parents of blind children that he did not care what they (the parents) thought of his bill or wanted for their children. Unfortunately, some of them are supporting the bill because they want an elected school board. They do not realize the elected State Board of Education of lay members is a part time board. Frankly, I believe a full time board of lay members, with limited terms, such as the Board of Control, can do a more satisfactory job of administration.

Sen. Syas has not answered two important questions: Would he propose that the State Department of Education administer the Omaha and Lincoln public schools? Would he place his children of beginner to high school age in the care of a department that could provide education, meals and lodging as is done for the grown men at the state trade school at Milford?

MRS. R. E. RAMIG

Thank You

Lincoln, Neb. I want to thank The Star's staff writer, Bill Anderson, for the beautiful tribute and write-up May 14 in the weekly section, "Man's Best Friend," on our two pals, Penny and Red, the Irish setters of our household. Mr. Anderson's style is unique and his journalistic ability to take mere facts and weave them into a clever and interesting article deserved commendation. I think. It was a distinct pleasure to have him in our home to take the pictures and obtain facts for his article.

The well-worded tribute reminds me of a speech I heard former Gov. James E. Campbell of Ohio, a first cousin, deliver in his second campaign to succeed himself as governor of the state. He said, "Give me a man who loves flowers, music and dogs, and I will give you a man who loves nature, nature's God, and all things created by Him." The classic statement stuck like glue in my mind all the years of my four score and two years of life.

Betrothal Announced

MISS MARY LOU HAESSLER

Announcement is made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Haessler of Leshara, of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Mary Lou, to Henry I. Matthews, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry I. Matthews of Glenview, Ill. A summer wedding is planned.

Miss Haessler is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority. She also attended Omaha University and now is a member of the Omaha public schools faculty.

Mr. Matthews was graduated from Coe College, Cedar Rapids, Ia., and is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity. He is associated with an insurance company in Omaha.

Shower Honoree

Fred Moshier Jr., of Omaha was honored at a pre-nuptial party recently given by Fred Pearson of Omaha. During the evening the bridegroom-elect was presented with a tool shower.

Gentlemen only were included in the "officially" invited guest list, however the ladies were "unofficially" on hand for the party.

Attending from Lincoln were Mr. Moshier's fiancé, Miss Barbara Sorenson, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Sorenson.

The marriage of Miss Sorenson and Mr. Moshier will be an event of Saturday, July 25.

Set "Most Marriageable" Record

This seems to be a day and age when setting records is the rage—squeezing amazing numbers of human contortionists, mostly of the collegiate variety, into telephone booths, automobiles or the like.

We think that another record may have been established on the University of Nebraska campus this spring, that of the "most engaged" or "most marriageable." The groups of coeds posing for our photographer are 12 of the 15 active members of Chi Omega sorority who are soon to be married. That's close to one fourth of the entire active chapter.

Miss Sue Rhodes, Miss Joyce Brigham, Miss Barbara Lundin, Miss Joanie Brandeberry, Miss Marilyn Clark, Miss Mary Hemphill, Miss Judy Williams, Miss Elaine Fritz, Miss Blanche Miskovsky, Miss Kay Stewart, Miss Carol Matcha and Miss Barbara Mandel.

Zonta Picnic

In place of the regular meeting of Zonta Club of Lincoln, the members will hold a 6:30 o'clock picnic supper on Monday evening at Roberts Park.

In charge of arrangements for the evening are Mrs. Ray Frohn, Mrs. A. E. Petersen, Mrs. Robert Suter and Mrs. Zola Long.

Tea Time Club Holds Meeting

The members of the Tea Time Extension Club held their May meeting at the home of Mrs. Warren Danley, with Mrs. Loy French as assisting hostess. The 16 members were costumed to express their childhood ambitions which ranged from nurses to boiler-makers.

Following a business meeting at which Mrs. Sam Stehr presided, and at which money was donated to the Kellogg Foundation, the afternoon was spent informally with a Secret Pals birthday exchange.

The next meeting of the group will be held the second Thursday in September.

Asking For The Moon!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a very nice man. He is kind and considerate but very stingy. As long as I have clothes on my back and food in the house he thinks I don't have to have one penny. I suggested an allowance and that was asking for the moon. If I slip a few dollars out of his wallet on occasion, is this considered "stealing"?

STINGY'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Yes, but you'd like me to tell you that this kind of "stealing" is justified. Stealing is never justified. Although I think every wife should have an "allowance" (no matter how small) she has no more right to pick her husband's pockets than he has to pick her purse.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 16-year-old girl with a big problem. When we are alone my boyfriend is very romantic but in public he acts like he doesn't even know me. What should I do?

PROBLEMS

DEAR ABBY: Don't complain — it could be worse. He could be romantic in public and act like he doesn't even know you when you're alone.

DEAR ABBY: Just tell "Shadovod" (the guy who broke the narcotics law and served a rap for his crime) that he had better learn to live with his record. This should be a lesson to anyone who is tempted to break ANY law. After you've served your time, if any trouble breaks out within a thousand miles of you, the guy with the record is the first one to be rounded up and questioned.

DOUGHT TO KNOW

DEAR ABBY: I am going with two fellows and I am having a hard time making up my mind which one I want. "A" is six feet two and very nice, but he is very conceited and acts like he is doing me a favor when he takes me out. But he does make a wonderful appearance and all the girls envy me when I'm with him. "B" is the exact opposite. He treats me like a Queen and is interested in my wants and desires above his own. He is nice looking but he is only five feet six (I am five feet five, flat-footed) and I am debating between the two of them. Can you help me?

MARY JO
DEAR MARY JO: Quantity can never take the place of quality. Take the little one . . . you see eye to eye.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, enclose a self-addressed envelope.

Entertain At Traditional Tea

Traditions come to the fore as high school commencement day approaches, and one of the traditions at Southeast High School is the senior tea to which all senior girls receive invitations, and for which a group of senior girls always are hostesses.

The pre-graduation senior tea this year was held at the home of Miss Dee Stuart on Sunday afternoon when the hostesses, in addition to Miss Stuart were Miss Kit Stuart, Miss Linda Bastian, Miss Judy Smith, Miss Ruthie Chubbuck, Miss Linda Joyce and Miss Susie Sidell.

The guests were invited for the hours between 2 o'clock and 5 o'clock, and we can't go too far wrong in surmising that between those hours there was much discussing of plans for that first year in college.

Chairmen Are Named

Mrs. J. R. Hansen, president of the University of Nebraska Faculty Newcomers Club, has announced the appointment of committee chairmen for the coming year.

Chairmen include: Mrs. Arthur L. Dean, Jr., welcome committee; Mrs. J. A. Fagerstrom, telephone; Miss Evelyn Ripa, publicity; Mrs. John D. Pitzer, yearbook; Mrs. Wayne E. Frye, activities; and Mrs. Robert Galawa, hostess committee.

New officers of the group are Mrs. Thomas English, vice president; Mrs. Gordon Van Riper, secretary; and Mrs. Preston Holder, treasurer.

Guests From The East

Arriving the past week end to spend several days in Lincoln were Mrs. Ben Pickering and her daughter, Joan, of Red Bank, N.J., who are the house guests of Mr. Pickering's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Doane Pickering. Mr. Pickering plans to come for the long Memorial Day week end after which the Pickering threesome will return to Red Bank.

En route to Lincoln Mrs. Pickering and her daughter stopped off for a visit with friends and relatives in Chicago.

Alumnae Luncheon

Alumnae members of Alpha Chi Omega met on Saturday for a 1 o'clock luncheon at Tillman's Plaza. New officers were installed. Mrs. Larry Shafer is the new president of the group and other officers are Mrs.

Kenneth Clark, first vice president; Mrs. John Peterson, second vice president; Mrs. Gail Bunner, secretary; Mrs. Stanley Kniffen, treasurer; and Mrs. William Hall, corresponding secretary.

Reception Honors Miss Watkins

Miss Marian Watkins, principal of Clinton School, was the honored guest Sunday afternoon at a reception at the school given by members of the Clinton PTA. Friends of the honoree, former pupils of the school and faculty members were invited to the reception for Miss Watkins, who is retiring this spring from the Lincoln Schools faculty.

Greeting the honored are

In charge of arrangements for the reception was Mrs. Edward Moss.

Camp Fire Entertains

The Lincoln Camp Fire Girls sponsored a tea on Sunday afternoon to acquaint Lincoln eighth and ninth grade girls with the activities and programs of the organization.

Approximately 200 girls were invited to the tea, which was held at the home of Mrs. Walton Ferris, and in charge of arrangements were Mrs. Fritz Teal and Mrs. John Desmond, Jr.

More than 300 attended the annual Dad-Daughter dinner of the District 1 Camp Fire Girls held Friday evening at the First Methodist Church. A program was presented by the girls.

In charge of arrangements for the dinner were Mrs. Randall Epp, Mrs. Kent Sherman, Mrs. Robert Regler, Mrs. James Warner and Mrs. Max Wells.

SUBURBIA

COTNER TERRACE

A warm welcome is extended this morning to Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Strauch and their family who are new residents in Cotner Terrace. The new address is 3142 Shirley Ct. The Strauch family previously resided at 5735 Baldwin.

Incidentally 3142 Shirley Ct. is the former address of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Almqvist and their children, Mary Beth and Brent, who have moved into their new home in another of our suburbs, Eastridge. Their new address is 1015 Dale Dr.

An out-of-town guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Tetherow last week-end was Robert Huffman of Gary, Ind.

A hostess at her home on Thursday evening was Mrs. Gordon Ware who entertained at a bridge party.

Inter-Club Council

The May meeting of the Lincoln Women's Inter-Club Council will be held Tuesday when the delegates will meet for a noon luncheon at the Capital Hotel.

PERSHING HEIGHTS

On Wednesday evening the Pershing Heights Extension Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Jim Carroll. Mrs. Robert Fletcher will serve as co-hostess.

NORTHEAST HEIGHTS

Spending last week-end in Holdrege were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Mason and their daughters, Norma Jean and Mary Lou, who were guests at the home of Mrs. Mason's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Frisell. The Masons went to Holdrege so that Norma Jean could celebrate her 12th birthday with her grandparents.

Bill To End Belated Ballots May Squeeze Office Seekers

Would Advance Filing Date For Candidates In Primary

By Betty Person

Both potential and avowed candidates for office in Nebraska's 1960 primary election would do well to regard a bill advanced by the Legislature last week.

If LB702, given initial approval Friday, is passed and signed by the governor, political candidates will have to declare their intentions by March 11, 1960—3 weeks ahead of the present deadline—or they won't be on the May 10 primary ticket.

Incumbents seeking re-election, others trying for nomination and presidential aspirants testing their party strength would all have to file 60 days prior to a primary election instead of 40 as is now required.

Persons holding one elective office and seeking another would have to file 70 days prior to election rather than 50, making their 1960 deadline March 1.

LB702 was introduced by the Government Committee at the request of the Secretary of State's office.

More Time Sought

The advanced deadlines proposed in LB702 are the result of an effort to increase the round-trip time for ballots mailed to members of the armed forces, many of whom serve in overseas posts. Present deadlines are impractical.

Ballots for absent and disabled voters must now be ready for delivery to voters 15 days prior to either a primary or general election. LB702 proposes to boost this deadline to 40 days.

Present law also provides that such ballots, in order to be counted, must be marked by midnight of the day preceding the election and returned to the county clerk or election commissioner by the second Thursday after the election.

Earlier Totals

The new deadlines represent an effort to make the outcome of elections known earlier and would result in county canvassing boards' meeting on only the first Friday after an election, rather than the first and second, to add absent and disabled votes to county totals.

Another effect of the earlier filing date would be elimination of some of the current rushwork in getting ballots printed.

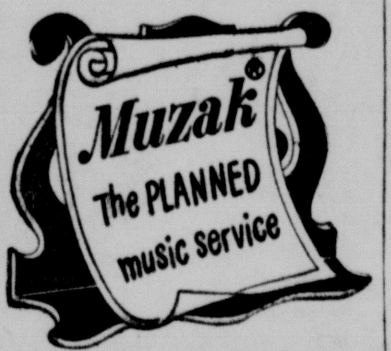

Aside from changes in the election calendar proposed in LB702, it includes two other significant amendments to present laws.

One of these would provide that voters cast their ballots "For" or "Against" an initiative or referendum petition rather than marking the present "Yes" or "No." It is hoped this change would eliminate some of the confusion now attendant to many such issues.

The measure also provides that those serving on election boards could not be over 65 years of age. Present law provides no age limit.

Lincoln Elks Tops In Youth Work

Lincoln Lodge No. 80 Sunday was cited by the Nebraska Elks Association for having the best youth activities program among large Elks lodges in the state.

The award was made at the closing day awards program of the 17,000-member organization's 3-day convention in Lincoln.

The Scottsbluff and Ainsworth lodges were also honored for youth programs in their areas.

A Scottsbluff Lodge No. 1367 team was named top winner in the ritualistic contest. The Lincoln lodge team captured 2nd-place laurels. North Platte and Kearney teams were awarded 3rd and 4th place honors, respectively.

Members of the ritualistic All-State Team were: Julian T. Caikens, McCook, exalted ruler; Earl E. Morgan, North Platte, leading knight; Ray Wraga, Scottsbluff, 1st knight; Bernard L. Ehlers, Ogallala, lecturing knight; Warren Barth, Lincoln, esquire; Mike Rogers, Kearney, chaplain; and William Lechner, Kearney, inner guard.

Robert Gallamore of Fairbury, Linda Sue Albin of Kearney and Honey Lou MacDonald of McCook, all high school students, were awarded $500 scholarships under the Elks "Most Valuable Student" awards program.

Howard "Chip" Kuklin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kuklin of 1042 So. 31st St., Lincoln, was awarded a $100 bond for being first-place winner in the Elks Scholarship state competition for boys.

George Mincer of Alliance and Graden L. Rathbun of Lincoln were nominated for new Elks' district deputies for Nebraska. W. K. Swanson of McCook will be recommended for the position of grand esteemed lecturing knight of the national organization. H. L. Blackledge of Kearney, past grand exalted ruler, announced.

Lee A. Donaldson of Chicago, grand secretary of the order, spoke at Sunday memorial services.

Stanley Danekas of Broken Bow was installed as president of the Nebraska Elks Assn. Sunday. He succeeds Graden L. Rathbun of Lincoln.

Other new officers installed include: Bernard Delay of Norfolk, 1st vice-president; Bernard Dougherty of Scottsbluff, 2nd vice-president; William Heiser of Falls City, 3rd vice-president; Chester Marshall of Kearney, 4th vice-president.

Paul Zimmer of Falls City was installed as secretary and Fred Laird of Fremont as treasurer.

Judge J. M. Fitzgerald of Omaha was chosen as trustee for 3 years. Elected one-year trustees were H. C. Duncan of York, Elmer Bradley of Columbus, Ralph Townsend of Grand Island and Carl Peterson of Chadron.

Principal speaker and guest at the convention was Horace R. Wisely of Salinas, Calif., grand exalted ruler of the B.P.O.E.

More than 800 attended the convention in Lincoln, hosted by Lincoln Lodge No. 80. The Elks decided to hold their 1960 state convention in Kearney.

Special Courses To Be Offered For Children

Two special courses, one in remedial reading and another in speech and hearing therapy, will be conducted at the Nebraska Home for Children (Whitehall) this summer. The courses were announced by Robert M. Rudell, superintendent of the home.

Mrs. Mary Ann Svec has been hired to conduct the special reading course. Mrs. Svec currently teaches at Huntington School, and has conducted special classes for exceptional children in the Lincoln school system.

Mrs. Joan P. Politoske, who has been hired to conduct the speech program, received her masters degree from Pennsylvania State University. She developed and supervised a speech therapy program for the Adams County School Board at Gettysburg, Pa.

The reading program will begin June 15 and end August 1, while the speech program begins June 12 and continues through Sept. 1.

Lions Interrupt State Meeting For A Fish Fry

Falls City, Neb. (AP)—Lions Club members from all parts of Nebraska interrupted their state convention Sunday night for a fish fry. It was the entertainment highlight of the day.

Earlier Sunday, the Lions heard a report on the progress of their statewide eye bank project from its chairman, Al Campbell.

A mixer and dance were among highlights of the Saturday entertainment program. Registration for the 3-day meeting began Saturday.

Business sessions get underway Monday with election of officers and selection of a site for the 1960 meeting.

Speakers Monday will include Charles Carter of Winnipeg, Canada, international Lions director, and Jack Stickley, past international Lions president from Charlotte, N.C. A banquet Monday night, at which Stickley will speak, concludes the convention.

HERE'S WHAT OTHER CARS HOPE YOU'LL DO WITHOUT!

(BUT HOW THEY WISH THEY HAD 'EM)

NO WONDER
MORE PEOPLE
ARE BUYING CHEVROLETS
THAN ANY OTHER CAR!

Impala Sport Coupe—unmistakably modern.

CHEVY'S ROOMINESS

(MOST SPACIOUS IN ITS FIELD... MAKE THE YARDSTICK TEST)
You'll find Chevrolet seats are up to a full 5.7 inches wider than those of the other leading low-priced sedans. And Chevy gives you even more head room than most of the highest priced sedans.

CHEVY'S BIGGER BRAKES

(BUILT FOR UP TO TWO-THIRDS LONGER LINING LIFE)
Chevrolet's new brakes are the biggest in their field—bigger, in fact, than those of many heavier, higher priced cars. And Chevy's bonded linings do away with drum-scoring rivets.

CHEVY'S FULL COIL RIDE

(NO OTHER LEADING LOW-PRICED CAR HAS A RIDE LIKE THIS)
A few minutes behind the wheel will show you why Chevrolet engineers have put leaf springs out to pasture. No other car near the price has come up with a ride that coddles you like this one.

CHEVY'S FRESH STYLING

(THE ONLY UNMISTAKABLY MODERN LINES IN ITS FIELD)
You don't have to look twice at Chevy's clean-swept silhouette to know it's a new car. And, besides the satisfaction it brings, Chevy's style will mean a higher allowance at trade-in time.

CHEVY'S BIGGER SAVINGS

(MORE MILES TO THE GALLON THAN ANY OTHER FULL-SIZE CAR)
A pair of Chevrolet 6's proved this emphatically—coming in first and second in their class in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run. And the winning mileage was a whopping 22.38 m.p.g.

CHEVY'S HIGHER TRADE-IN VALUE

(BY NATIONAL AUTOMOBILE DEALERS ASSOCIATION FIGURES)
The N.A.D.A. Official Used Car Guide Book shows that Chevy consistently brings a higher trade-in allowance than any other low-priced car. Last year Chevrolets averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two."

CHEVY'S ADVANCED-DESIGN ENGINES

(AND YOU GET THE WIDEST CHOICE IN THE INDUSTRY!)
Chevy's the only car in its field that gives you oil-hushed hydraulic valve lifters on all standard engines for smoother, quieter performance. It's the only American car at any price with a high-performance V8 that packs more than one horsepower into every cubic inch of displacement. And you get nine engines in all to choose from... every one of them with the convenience of automatic choke.

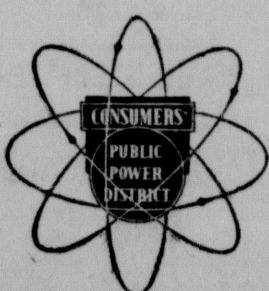

Coollest way to cook:

ELECTRIC!

You'll know it's your way to cook when you prepare your first meal on your new electric range. You'll find your kitchen air will remain fresh and cool. Electric cooking heat goes into the food, not into the air. Heating coils are flat on top, press against bottom of pans and transfer heat directly to the utensil. The electric oven is insulated on all sides to keep the heat inside. There's no flame... no by-products of combustion to dirty your walls or darken your bright pans.

Kansas City (P)—The Kansas City Athletics teed off on Chicago pitching for the second consecutive game and defeated the White Sox 8-6 Sunday, with Hector Lopez once more setting the pace.

The A's nicked 5 Chicago pitchers for 15 hits. Lopez drove in 4 runs—as he did in Kansas City's 16-0 victory Saturday night—pounding a triple and a double.

Bob Cerv drove in 3 runs with a pair of singles, and Dick Williams accounted for the 8th with a double—his 4th in the two games.

Sherm Lollar got 3 of the White Sox runs with a home run over the left field fence after Nellie Fox had singled in the 9th, and a single in the 3rd.

Chicago (P)—The Chicago White Sox pitched for the second consecutive game and defeated the Kansas City Athletics 8-6 Sunday, with Hector Lopez once more setting the pace.

The A's nicked 5 Chicago pitchers for 15 hits. Lopez drove in 4 runs—as he did in Kansas City's 16-0 victory Saturday night—pounding a triple and a double.

Bob Cerv drove in 3 runs with a pair of singles, and Dick Williams accounted for the 8th with a double—his 4th in the two games.

Sherm Lollar got 3 of the White Sox runs with a home run over the left field fence after Nellie Fox had singled in the 9th, and a single in the 3rd.

Aaron Hot As Braves Divide

... Conley Hurls Shutout In 1st

Philadelphia (P)—Gene Conley held Milwaukee to 6 hits in a 6-0 first game shutout victory, but the Braves, with Hank Aaron pounding out 4 hits, bounced back to win the nightcap of a doubleheader against the Philadelphia Phillies 8-3 Sunday.

Aaron, the leading batsman in the major leagues, went hitless against Conley in the opener, but hit the Phils' pitchers almost at will in the second. He doubled in the first inning, and sent two runners home in the 3rd with the first of his 3 singles for the day.

Aaron boosted his average to .461 in his 5 appearances at the plate in the second game. In the opener, the Phils chased starter Joey Jay from the mound before he was able to get a single batter out.

They got 4 walks in a row for their first run, Harry Anderson singled in another for the second tally, and reliever Juan Pizarro gave up two more walks for a total of 4 runs.

Conley, who was traded off by the Braves in the hassle involving his playing with the Boston Celtics in the National Basketball Assn., struck out 5 and didn't walk a man in the first game.

Dziadek Hurls 2-Hit Shutout

... Lincoln Wins End At 12

By Don Bryant
Topeka's Burt Dziadek applied the brakes to the Lincoln express Sunday night, bringing the Chiefs' 12-game winning streak to a skidding halt with a two-hit shutout, 4-0, at Sherman Field.

It was the first shutout registered this year by a Red chucker and the big righthander came within inches of recording a no-hitter.

With 701 fans pulling for the front-running Chiefs to rip off their 13th straight win, Dziadek came up with a big dose of disappointment.

After the Reds came up with a trio of runs in the first inning off Ron Bloodworth—who did a creditable job the rest of the route, scattering 4 hits—Dziadek was never in danger.

He no-hit the Chiefs until the 6th when Jim Lynn blooped a hit into short rightfield that Paul Kelly almost snared with a diving try. The only other safety came in the 7th.

Don Bacon sent a darter into the hole that Third Baseman Marty Rosell got a glove on but couldn't hold. No Chief made it past second base.

The same clubs renew the rivalry at Sherman Field tonight at 8 p.m., with either Hub Winton (1-0) or Dick Kimball (2-0) pitching for Lincoln against either Kent Malory (1-0) or Amiel Solomon (0-0).

Topeka's big first inning came after the Reds loaded the bases via a walk, a pick-off error by Bloodworth, a double by Kelly—Don Gordon lost the ball in the twilight—and a walk.

Don Pavletich's single plated the first tally and the other two streaked home on a double-play ball.

Smoke Signals... Lincoln is now two games ahead of second-place Des Moines... Red catcher Pavletich suffered a jammed finger in the second, but he isn't expected to miss much action. Topeka has had 3 catchers hurt in as many games... It was a snappy 1-59 contest... Chief General Manager Rog Bortoff became the father of a 9 pound, 4 ounce girl—Shari Lynn—Sunday morning. She joins brother Steve, 2.

Survivors include his wife Alice; a daughter, Nancy, 8; 3 brothers and 5 sisters.

Services today at the Livingston-Sondermann Funeral Home will be followed by another service Tuesday, probably at the St. Paul Evangelical Reformed Church in Lincoln.

Interment will follow at Wyuka Cemetery in Lincoln.

Former teammates of Lorenz at the University of Nebraska are requested to attend the latter service in a body.

Detroit Splits With Indians

Cleveland (P)—Granny Hamner's 9th inning single scored Carroll Hardy from second base to give the Cleveland Indians a 3-2 victory over the Detroit Tigers in the first game of a doubleheader Sunday.

Frank Lary and Dave Sisler pitched Detroit to a 6-3 triumph in the nightcap.

The second game victory was the 5th in 8 decisions for Lary, who was relieved by Sisler in the bottom of the 9th with the bases loaded and nobody out.

Detroit rightfielder Harvey Kuenn got 3 singles in 5 trips to the plate in the opener and a double and two singles in 4 times at bat in the second game.

The Tigers scored 5 of their runs in the nightcap off veteran right-hander Mike Garcia, who was lifted after 5 innings in losing his 3rd straight game. He has no wins.

Southpaw Herb Score struck out 10 batters in winning his 5th game against two losses in the opener. He gave up 5 hits and walked 7.

Rites Today For Lorenz; Ex-Husker

Grand Island — Funeral services will be held here today for Fred Lorenz, 38, who died Friday following an illness of 8 months.

Lorenz, a 4-year letter winner as a University of Nebraska footballer from 1944-47, was born in Lincoln and graduated from Lincoln High.

An Army Lorenz veteran of World War II, he coached at Beatrice High from 1948 until 1953, then joined the Phillips Petroleum Co. He and his family moved to Grand Island in 1958.

Survivors include his wife Alice; a daughter, Nancy, 8; 3 brothers and 5 sisters.

Services today at the Livingston-Sondermann Funeral Home will be followed by another service Tuesday, probably at the St. Paul Evangelical Reformed Church in Lincoln.

Interment will follow at Wyuka Cemetery in Lincoln.

Former teammates of Lorenz at the University of Nebraska are requested to attend the latter service in a body.

POINT BLANK

By Don Bryant
Sports Editor, The Star

Plug For Wellman And Ike

Stephen Greenberg of Lincoln writes on a timely subject: "I always like to give credit where credit is due. Therefore, I would appreciate it very much if you would write about the tremendous improvement of Allen Wellman."

"At the start of this year's track season few people gave Nebraska any chance at all in the weights. Wellman started at 46 feet in the shot and about 140 feet in the discus—only two months ago. Much credit, of course, must go to Ike Hanscom, his coach."

Right you are, Steve. Ike has helped Wellman and many other Husker weightmen develop. NU Track Coach Frank Sevigne seconds the motion, too.

Hanscom, however, refuses to take any credit and joins Sevigne in praising Wellman's hard work in recent months.

"AI's the one who has done all the work and he's the fellow who should get the credit," Ike says.

In addition to his coaches, Wellman can give an assist to Oklahoma's two fine shotputters—Mike Lindsay and Dan Erwin—and to the newly-installed NU weightlifting room.

"Weight-lifting has certainly helped AI a great deal," Sevigne said. "It has been the main reason he has been able to add 6 feet on his shot-putting since the Big 8 indoor."

Where do the Oklahomans fit in? Well, the Huskers spent some time at Norman before an early spring meet and Wellman got to see the Lindsay-Erwin duo in practice.

"We had tried to impress AI with the value of weightlifting but he wasn't really convinced until he saw what it was doing for those Oklahoma boys," Sevigne said. "Since then he has been sold and has really gotten serious about the weight training program."

Wellman is certainly one of the bright spots in the Husker track picture. Since he's only a sophomore, you can expect him to take on added stature in the next two years. Sevigne predicts he'll be in the 55 to 58-foot class before he's through.

If hard work will insure it, AI Wellman won't disappoint his coach and

Pinch Hitters Do Work As Bucs Win Twin Bill

Kravitz, Burgess Produce

Pittsburgh (AP) — Pinch hitters Danny Kravitz and Smokey Burgess provided the timely punch as the Pittsburgh Pirates rallied twice to sweep a doubleheader from the Cincinnati Redlegs 2-1 and 5-4 Sunday.

The double victory extended the Pirates' winning streak to 5 straight—longest of the year—and gave them undisputed possession of 3rd place.

Kravitz drove across the winning run in the opener with a pinch hit double in the 9th. Burgess unloaded a two-bagger in the 10th of the nightcap for the winning tally.

Thompson In Indianapolis Pole Position

Indianapolis (AP) — Twenty-eight veterans of the 500-mile auto race and 5 rookies Sunday filled the starting field for the 43rd Memorial Day classic Saturday at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

The 10 drivers added to the field in the accident-free final time trials failed to equal the speed of Johnny Thomson of Boyertown, Pa., who won the pole position a week ago.

Thomson thus won a special $1,000 prize for the overall best speed of the 4 qualifying sessions.

The lineup:

FIRST ROW
Johnny Thomson, Boyertown, Pa., Racing Associated Special, 145.806 miles an hour.

No 1959 Sprinters On List Of All-Time Bests

(This is the first in a series reviewing the 1959 Nebraska prep track season and the all-time honor roll. Today—Sprinters and Hurdlers.)

By Al Beebe

Nebraska's 1959 crop of sprinters, despite the presence of Omaha Central's 1958 sensation, Roger Sayers, failed to dent the all-time honor roll of top 25 marks. But the hurdlers atoned for the inequities of the short dashmen.

Sayers, who set the state 100 record last year while gaining time for 5th and 8th spots in the 100 and 220, respectively, could not match his 9.8 and 21.7 performances this season. He came close, running 9.9 and 21.8.

An injury late in the season ruined Sayers' hopes of bettering his times. He has another year to shoot at new records, however.

It's a somewhat different story in the hurdles. Four lads made the honor roll in the high hurdles, and 7 got in the low hurdle list.

Bob Hahn, Beatrice junior, heads the list. His 14.6 in the highs is tied as the fastest ever, while his 19.6 low hurdle clocking is second on the all-time roster.

For the second time, an Omaha North high hurdler chased a Beatrice boy to a 14.6 effort. This year, Fred Wilke ran the 14.7 for second place. In 1954, when Bill Marten ran 14.6, North's Bob McIntyre was on his heels.

A pair of 15.0 clockings are in a bunch tied for 13th spot on the all time list. Jeff Mills, a junior from Columbus, and Sidney's Terry Gilliland are in the 18-man tie.

In addition to Hahn's 19.6 in the lows, Wilke ties for 3rd on the all-time list with his 19.8. J. B. Simmons of Omaha Benson and Scottsbluff's John Randall ran 20.2, tying for 11th spot. Mills and Fred Windle of Nebraska City are tied for 16th at 20.3, while Oshkosh's Dan McCord, 20.4, gains a tie for 21st.

Here is the all-time top 10 honor roll:

100 Yard Dash
1. 9.6 (wind), Gene Littler, Mitchell, 1937.
2. 9.7 (wind), Lambert, Kearney, 1928; Phillips, Omaha Central, 1932; Peterson, Nebraska City, 1956.

Ag Engineering Studies Roll

... Through $9,000 Research Grants At University

Grants totaling $9,000 are being used by the University of Nebraska for research in three phases of agricultural engineering. A $2,000 grant from the National Soybean Crop Improvement Council, Decatur, Ind., is being used for research on irrigated soybeans. Another grant for $5,500 comes from the Eimco Corporation of Salt Lake City, Utah, and will be used to help finance the study of performance tests of tractors under varying track conditions. A $1,500 grant from the Aluminum Co. of America is to be used in sprinkler irrigation studies.

Rainy Skies Ahead For Plains

Rain will be scattered Monday through the Gulf area as well as lower and middle Mississippi Valley, northern and central Plains, northern Great Lakes and over north-west quarter of United States. Warmer temperatures are likely over Northeast and cooler over extreme Northwest. (AP Wirephoto Map)

5 Nebraska Women Prepare For 500-Mile Horseback Trek

... From Central City To Estes Park

Central City, Neb. (P)—Five Nebraskans are looking forward to a 500 mile trip by horseback—one that will take them from Central City to Estes Park, Colo.

The five, led by a veteran of the route, plan to leave June 7, traveling about 20 to 25 miles a day. They hope to be in Estes Park July 3 for the opening of the National Arabian Horse Show.

Mrs. Paul Crawford of Central City made the trip in 1948 and her husband says "it did not take much persuasion to get my wife to go. She likes horses."

Mrs. Ethel Roberts of Broken Bow suggested the long trek. Also making the trip will be Mrs. Esmond Crown and her 13 year old daughter Linda, of Omaha, and Dianna Ellenwood, 13, of Central City.

Highway 30 Mrs. Crawford said they will follow Highway 30 to Big Springs, reaching Alda the first night. After that, Mrs. Crawford isn't sure of where they'll stop each night.

After leaving Big Springs, they'll head for Julesburg, Sterling, Fort Morgan, Greeley and Loveland, Colo., before going up the Big Thompson Canyon to Estes Park.

"We will rely upon the hospitality of ranchers and farmers along the way," Mrs. Crawford said.

"Different" She admits, though, the situation will be considerably different this time because of the number making the trip. There are few farmers or ranchers who have homes large enough for 5 extra persons.

"I imagine we'll have to spend most of our night in the communities along the way and stay at hotels or motels. We will use stockyards or sales barns to put up our horses for the night," she added. "When making a trip like this it is doubly important to see that our mounts are well fed and cared for."

Pender Stockman Says Surplus Ills Result Of Politics

A Pender cattle feeder says our national agricultural surpluses are caused by politics; not by research work that has resulted in more efficient ways to produce farm crops.

William Biles went on to say present agricultural surpluses may be temporary. He spoke as a member of a panel at an Agricultural Experiment Station staff meeting at the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture.

Biles said there is a need for better public relations between agriculture and other segments of our total economy. He also called for improvement in agricultural marketing techniques pointing out some products are marketed the same way they were 50 years ago.

Set Up Index Using different tractors to test the traction of tractors under varying track conditions, will set up a performance index resembling the octane ratings of gasoline. They will show whether a tractor is built for certain conditions under which it will be operated.

The soybean study is concerned with determining the water requirements of soybeans for high production.

The research will be conducted by Don Lindberg, graduate assistant, who will be working under Paul E. Schleusener, associate professor of agricultural engineering at the University.

The soybean work will be in conjunction with the North Platte Experiment Station and the agronomy department at the College of Agriculture.

The sprinkler irrigation studies will be conducted by Bert Somerhalder, assistant agricultural engineer at the North Platte Station, working with Schleusener.

Bayard Crash Claims Minatare Mother, Child

... State Death Toll Soars Higher

Bayard, Neb. (P)—A two-car intersection crash on U.S. Highway 26, about 3 miles north of Bayard, claimed its second victim early Sunday.

Valerie Lackman, 3, daughter of the late Mrs. Delores Funk of Minatare, died in a Scottsbluff hospital. Mrs. Funk was killed outright in the crash late Saturday night.

Mrs. Funk and Valerie were riding in a car driven by Christ Funk when it was in collision with an auto driven by James Lee Jones, 21, Minatare.

Funk suffered a broken arm, Jones face lacerations and chest injuries and Mrs. Funk's son, Ricky Lackman, 6, had undetermined injuries. All were thrown from the cars.

How Keotane Helped A Motorist Solve THE CASE OF THE MISSING ENGINE Just By Driving!

Once upon a time there was a motorist who had a car that he loved almost as much as he loved his wife. (Sometimes his wife said, "Oh, I think you love that car more than you love me!") But anyway, one day ...

... after he had driven his car a few thousand miles, something awful happened! Gum, carbon and lead deposits inside his car's engine made it start missing—and his car just didn't have the old "get up and go" it had when it was new.

Then he saw an advertisement that said Skelly Keotane Gasoline would help his car run better, have more power, and deliver more mileage! But a neighbor who knew All About Everything said, "Ha! I tried a tank full and I didn't see any difference!"

Cream of Kentucky uncorks a new approach to whiskey

Well, the man at the Skelly station said, "My goodness, one tank full of Skelly Keotane won't do the job—you can't expect miracles overnight! The secret is staying with Keotane. That's because Keotane does its cleaning job by ...

... dissolving gum in your engine as you drive. The more you drive the more you clean. As Keotane "unglues" carbon and lead deposits, up goes mileage ... up goes power ... up goes octane effect! Try it for at least 3,000 miles" So ...

... our friend took the Skellyman's advice. He just Made Up His Mind to keep his car on Keotane for at least 3,000 miles and see what happened. "After all," he asked himself, "what can I lose? The cleaner my engine is the more it will run like a new engine. And, besides ...

... what easier way is there to clean any engine than just by driving?" Well, sure enough, as he drove, Keotane began to dissolve the gum and to loosen the carbon and lead deposits. And the more he drove, the more he cleaned. And then one day he suddenly noticed that ...

*Independent research tests proved Skelly Keotane Gasoline produces an average increase of 12.7% more mileage ... 14.6% more horsepower ... plus the effect of 3.1 more octane points. Wow!

House Demos Ignore Veto Threat As Wheat Bill Action Near

Washington (AP)—Defiant House Democrats, indifferent to veto threats, will act this week on a wheat surplus control bill completely at odds with President Eisenhower's farm plans.

They counted on passing the measure and thus handing the administration its second major legislative setback in as many weeks. Eisenhower suffered a decisive defeat only last week on housing, which also is snarled now in potential veto troubles.

A bill giving wheat farmers the choice of even higher price supports than now are provided goes before the House Rules Committee for floor clearance Monday or Tuesday.

Leaders have scheduled a vote before next weekend if the rules committee acts in time. And they expect the bill to pass.

Risk Veto

Clearly angered over Eisenhower's stand on agriculture, House leaders let it be known they are ready and willing to risk a veto. They contend the administration has refused to cooperate in working out a mutually acceptable program, and now plan to go ahead on their own.

The administration plan would provide considerably lower dollar supports, based on a percentage of the last average 3-year market price—about $1.40 a bushel as against the present support price of $1.81 at 75 per cent of parity.

Eisenhower two weeks ago warned Congress that the government will have 3½ billion dollars worth of surplus wheat in its warehouses by 1960 unless something is done to halt the buildup.

He called the present wheat program "the most dramatic failure of all," and said the whole federal farm subsidy program will collapse under mounting costs unless the flood of surplus wheat production is stemmed.

Runaway Victory

Democratic confidence in passage of their own wheat bill was bolstered by last week's runaway victory over the administration on housing aids. On this bill, farm state Democrats went along with members from big city districts where government subsidized slum elimination and low rent public housing are popular.

Leaders expected northern big city members to return the favor when the vote comes on a wheat bill favored by the farmers.

The Senate last Friday passed a two-year stopgap wheat bill which, in general, provides higher price supports for less production. It also limits price support payments to any one farm or farmer to $35,000.

Individual farmers would have the choice of price supports at 80% of parity ($1.89 a bushel) if they cut production 20%, 75% supports ($1.81 a bushel) if they cut production 10%, or 65% supports ($1.52 a bushel) if they plant their full acreage allotment.

A Choice

The House Agriculture Committee last week approved a bill which would give farmers the choice of the present program, or 90% price supports if acreage is cut 25%. But unlike the Senate bill, the choice would be binding on all farmers if two-thirds favor it in a referendum.

As compensation for cutting acreage, wheat farmers under the House bill would receive wheat from government-held stocks equal to one-third the normal yield of the acres taken out of production. Land taken out of production could be used for grazing, but not for planting any other price-support crops.

Empire Day Held Under New Name

London (AP)—Britons for the first time observed Commonwealth Day—the new title that has been given an old institution. In sunlit London, officials of many Commonwealth States laid wreaths at the War Cenotaph in a ceremony marking past and present links between Britain and her partners.

For 55 years, the observance has been held under the title of Empire Day. The change—announced in the House of Commons last December by Prime Minister Harold Macmillan—reflects a new concept of Commonwealth partnership.

Only one British institution held out against it. The Imperialist-minded Sunday Express gave the observance a front page story, but stuck throughout to the old title.

Iranian Leaders Talk To Refugees

Tehran, Iran (AP)—Premier Meneuchehr Eghbal met representatives of Iraqi Kurdish refugees in Western Iran and promised the Iranian government would help them.

Official reports reaching here said that in reply, nearly 100 representatives of the Kurds expressed loyalty to the Shah and their hatred of the increasing Communist influence in their own country.

Eghbal, with 3 cabinet ministers, is touring the refugee area to see for himself the conditions of the thousands of Kurds who fled Iraq after fighting the reportedly Moscow-trained Mulla Mostafa tribe. Unofficially, between 5,000 and 10,000 Kurds are believed to have fled to Iran and they are still trekking across the border.

He Looked, Talked, Dressed American—But Was Red Secret Policeman

Editor's Note—An Associated Press correspondent in Hungary for 10 years, Endre Marton was imprisoned for 18 months by the communists as a result of his work as a journalist. He fled his native land during the 1956 Hungarian uprising against Red domination, and now is an American citizen.

By Endre Marton
Washington (AP)—The Swedish army journal not long ago reported—and the Russians became indignant—that a thousand top Communist students are being trained for espionage in the United States in an exact copy of a small U.S. town.

Whether such a town exists I do not know. But I met a man who easily could have been a graduate. His name was Capt. Andras Budai of the Hungarian secret police.

The Swedish journal—called "Contact With The Army"—said the students in the Soviet spy center at Winniza in the Ukraine live the life of an average American student.

Snack Bars
They have their meals in snack bars or restaurants which could have as well been situated in New York, Chicago or San Francisco. The menu lists only American dishes.

The account by Maj. Per Lindgren, Soviet analyst, gave these added details:
The motion picture theaters show only Hollywood movies and the stores sell only U.S.-made articles. The students drive Fords or Chevrolets by U.S. traffic rules. They study American history from U.S. textbooks and they talk about baseball and the latest scandals.

The first stage in the training is devoted entirely to studies of American dialects which they must be able to speak perfectly.

Some attend the school, surrounded by barbed wire, for as long as 10 years before slipping into the U.S. illegally—or as members of diplomatic staffs.

When I first met Capt. Budai I was convinced he was an American. To say I met him is an overstatement: Budai strolled into the room in the secret police prison where I was being grilled for 8 hours a day.

I didn't know at that time who the blond young man was, and learned only later that he signed the warrant ordering my arrest. But it struck me that in this "drab house of mystery," as the police jokingly called it, there should be a man so strikingly different.

Didn't Look Like One
The average communist secret police officer rarely dons his Russian-type uniform. He usually wears the most inconspicuous civilian clothes and is anxious to look exactly like any other petty bourgeois. Budai certainly did not look like one.

The tall young man with a crew cut looked exactly like an American football star. His 6 foot 5 frame was tucked into an American style overcoat, he had a multicolored scarf around his neck and a narrow brimmed hat on his head.

Budai was in charge of counterespionage, entrusted with watching the U.S. and British legations in Budapest. His task was to make contacts with diplomats, plant microphones in their homes and force their maids to spy on them.

Very Amusing
Whether it is an advantage to look like an American college boy when you have to carry out such a job, I do not know. But Budai, it appeared, found it very amusing.

His role in my life was actually completed after my arrest, yet he obviously could not resist enjoying this latest "important" victory of his career. Once, left alone with me in the office, he started to speak—in English. I should have said in American; his slight midwestern drawl was unmistakable.

Show Off
What he said was unimportant. It was obvious he only wanted to show off with his knowledge of the language. Budai delivered the usual harangue about my "sin" of being devoted to everything the West produces, ranging from democracy to moccasins.

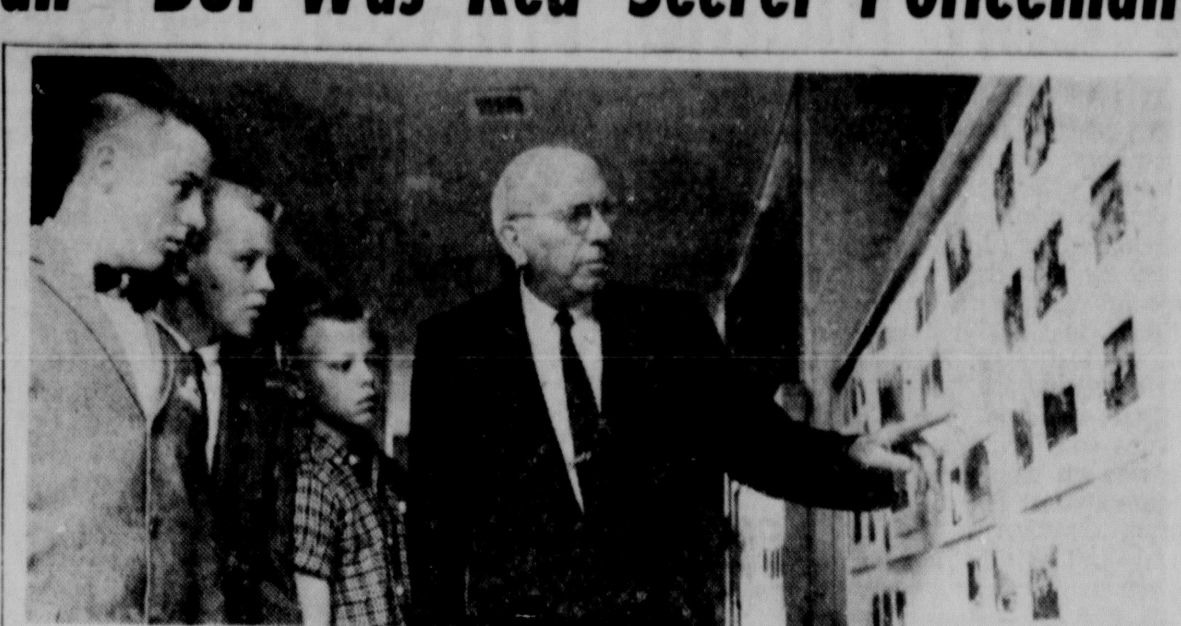

I had got used to not listening and not answering: The arguments were stale and boring. But when Budai concluded his sermon, I could not restrain a smile. While reprimanding me for preferring western products, Budai fumbled in his pocket and took out a pack of American cigarettes which he lit with an unmistakable U.S.-made lighter.

The whole scene was unrealistic. Here was a young man who looked, dressed, talked and behaved like an average American, smoked American cigarettes—something only few could afford on the very limited black market—in a room decorated with the pictures of Lenin and Dzhershinski, the founder of the Russian secret police.

I smiled and, of course, was ordered to explain why. When I told him I found the contrast between what he said and how he acted amusing, Budai flushed in anger—and I got 3 days in solitary.

Whether there exists a copy of a mid-town U.S. in Soviet Russia, I do not know. But that the Soviets employ agents who could fool me and, I believe, others by looking like an American, that I know from personal experience.

Radiation Study Set
Buenos Aires (AP)—An international symposium on radiation effects on people, animals and vegetables will open here soon. The meeting is sponsored by the Argentine government with the support of the Panamerican Union.

Iraq Tribesmen Attack Russians At Work On Base

Tehran, Iran (AP)—Anti-Communist Tribesmen in Iraq have attacked a military base being built by Soviet experts at Seibeh, burning equipment and killing a Russian officer, according to a press report here.

The newspaper Ettelaat quoted an Iranian businessman and others arriving from the area as saying the small Sheikh Treek tribe staged demonstration at Seibeh and the nearby village of Saif against construction of the base. Several Russians were injured and were flown to Basra by helicopter, the report said.

The Sheikh Treek tribesmen are a non-Kurdish people who live in the Seibeh-Saif area along the Shatt Al Arab, the river formed by the union of the Tigris and Euphrates in southeastern Iraq.

TV Instruction Booming In Schools Across U.S.

Teaching through television courses—still in its experimental stages throughout the country—reached well over half a million students last year, according to the joint report of the Ford Foundation and Fund for the Advancement of Education.

The project, sponsored nationally with grants from the two agencies, includes a high school-level series of courses over KUON-TV in which 29 school districts within a 40-mile radius of Lincoln participated.

As of Feb. 1, 117 colleges and universities offered courses for credit via television, 569 school districts made regular use of televised instruction, and 241 colleges and universities offered credit for the national TV course in physics, "Continental Classroom."

The education TV experiments included more than 25 colleges and universities and 100 school systems with 100,000 students and teachers participating.

Strong Backing
More than $10 million in financial support has been provided by the Fund and Foundation in the past 10 years for more than 50 experiments including the KUON-TV high school credit classes.

The University of Nebraska TV-correspondence classes have functioned for 2 years, primarily to bring to students in small rural high schools college-preparatory courses that otherwise would not be available because of the lack of qualified teachers.

The TV educational courses sponsored over KUON-TV during the past year have numbered 9: beginning and advanced algebra, general mathematics, plane geometry, chemistry, physics, American literature, Spanish and art. A $115,000 grant from the Fund and Foundation aided in financing the program. Rural schools participated by paying only the expenses incurred in conducting their in-school discussion periods plus cost of texts and materials.

Easing Support
In the coming year, subsidizing of the programs will be wholly or partially dropped by the agencies now that the value of the programs has been proved. Local school districts, universities and colleges, and state departments of education are expected to assume some of the costs.

The KUON-TV program, at first scheduled to receive no funds from the national program next year, will now receive $30,000 from the Fund and Foundation, $15,000 from the Lincoln Public Schools, and donation of University of Nebraska faculty time and facilities amounting to approximately $15,000.

Tentatively, the Nebraska program will be pared down to courses in English, social studies, geometry, and chemistry or physics, all for use by Lincoln high schools.

Rural school districts previously participating without paying a share of the studio costs, showed insufficient interest in financing the 1959-60 program to warrant their participation.

Another of our social customs calls for great endurance. You must never sit down at these parties—neither inside or out.

You must stand and stand and stand. Is it ever rough on the feet?

When you leave a party like this, you go home and kick off your shoes and absolutely sink on the couch. Exhausted.

This is a pretty fair program for the summer. Rich and full and satisfying.

We can hardly wait for it to begin. And, before it is over, we will hardly be able to wait for it to end.

If Strauss Loses, He Can Blame Himself—Magnuson

Washington (AP)—If the Senate rejects Lewis L. Strauss' nomination for secretary of Commerce, Sen. Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash.) said Sunday the appointee can lay major blame on bad public relations.

The Senate will get two reports on Strauss this week from its commerce committee, which Magnuson heads, one, subscribed to by 9 members, will urge Senate confirmation. An 8-member report will ask rejection of the cabinet appointment.

Debate on the nomination probably will begin next week, with the final outcome regarded as highly uncertain.

Changed Mind

Magnuson, who voted against Strauss in committee, said in an interview he had intended to support the nomination but had changed his mind because of Strauss' attitude toward charges made against him by Sens. Clinton P. Anderson (D-Mn.) and Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.).

These two senators accused Strauss of being devious in his dealings with Congress as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission. Strauss and Anderson in turn branded different parts of the testimony as "unqualified falsehoods." Strauss said Kefauver used "the technique of trial by innuendo" against him.

"Strauss creates controversy wherever he goes," Magnuson said. "And with half of the Senate feeling uneasy about him, I don't see how he could do a competent job as secretary of commerce."

Belligerent

"If he had come in and had admitted he might have made some mistakes as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission and had not been belligerent in his attitude, I think he might have been confirmed. Being secretary of Commerce is a different kind of job and as a business man he certainly has had some training for it."

Magnuson and some other committee Democrats obviously still are smarting under the charges made by Sen. Andrew F. Schoepel (R-Kan.) that Anderson "dominated" the nomination hearings and that committee staff members usurped the authority of members by aiding anti-Strauss witnesses.

Strauss also waved a political red flag in Magnuson's face by bringing along his special assistant, Philip M. Evans, to sit with him while he was testifying. Washington state Democrats haven't forgotten some of the things Evans said about them when he was an unsuccessful candidate against Rep. Don Magnuson (D-Wash.).

An influential Republican senator, who asked that his name not be used, said he thinks these incidents have tended toward strengthening the opposition to Strauss among the Senate's 64 Democrats. Republicans are fighting an uphill battle if party lines are drawn together since they already have lost one of their 34 members—Sen. William Langer of North Dakota—to the opposition.

Petite Stewardess Saves Pilot From Falling Out

Prescott, Ariz. (AP)—A petite airlines hostess, whose courage and prompt action prevented the possible death of a pilot, Sunday said, "I've had enough excitement to last a lifetime."

Carolyn Hanna, 20, of Denver, was on a Frontier Airlines flight between Denver and Phoenix when suddenly the passenger door snapped open.

The pilot, Capt. George Graham, 36, of Phoenix, struggled vainly to close the door and it appeared the suction was going to sweep him into the sky.

Grimly Held On

Miss Hanna grabbed the pilot's arm and grimly held on as both fell to the floor. The hostess anchored herself by wrapping her other arm around the bottom part of a seat.

The drama occurred as the plane was approaching Prescott at an altitude of about 6,000 feet.

Graham, still unable to close the door, took the controls from co-pilot Wesley Morris, and made an emergency landing at this northern Arizona city. The landing was a success despite the door dragging the runway. On a DC3, the passenger door drops down on opening.

The 118-pound Miss Hanna said she'd been hoping for something exciting to happen since becoming a hostess 4 months ago.

"But oh, what a day," she said, "my heart stopped when I saw him so close to that door. This will last me a

2 Injured Slightly In 3-Car Accident

Two persons, one of them a 5-year-old girl, suffered minor head bumps in a 3-car collision at 17th and South Sunday afternoon, according to police.

The girl was Nanette Marie Luers, passenger in a car driven by her father, Henry Luers of 2940 Sewell. Also injured was Mrs. Larry Treadwell, 24, passenger in a car driven by her husband.

Thomas E. Meyer, 41, of 2029 N. was driver of the third auto.
